The line of withdrawal as shown on this map has been identified according to the Secretary-General's report to the Security Council of 22 May 2000 for the sole purpose of confirming the withdrawal of the Israeli forces from Lebanon pursuant to Security Council resolution 425 (1978). It is based on the best cartographic and documentary material available to the United Nations. The line of withdrawal is without prejudice to future border agreements between the Member States concerned.

The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on this map do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by the United Nations.
