

UNIC Opens its Internet Corner 8 March 2006

UNIC Sana'a organized today at its premises a celebration on the opening of its internet corner which will be used by journalists and researchers. The opening was attended by United Nations Resident Coordinator a.i. with the participation of a number of journalists and Government officials.

During the celebration, UN RC a.i. Mr. Hans Obdejin, has said in his statement to Yemeni Satellite Channel that he is happy of opening such corner by UNIC, which will help journalists, researchers and students to get an access to the information related to UN materials. Mr. Obdejin has urged women on the occasion of women world day, to make the best use of this important facility. Meanwhile UNIC OIC said to the Yemeni Radio and Yemeni TV that such facility is a good opportunity for journalists and researcher to get an easy access to all documents of Security Council and General Assembly through using the Online Documentation System (ODS). It is worth mentioning that the corner includes 5 computers with ADSL line and will be used by journalists and researchers on a daily basis (5 days a week) from 9:00 am till 13:00 pm. The occasion had a good coverage by Yemeni TV, Yemeni Radio and other printed media.
