

Empower

The response to AIDS depends on the strength of individuals and communities. To halt the epidemic, it is essential to eliminate the social and economic inequalities and injustices that fuel its spread. Empowering individuals and communities to respond to AIDS is a critical and a fundamental part of respecting, protecting and promoting their human rights.

Stop AIDS. Keep the Promise.

For more information go to: www.worldaidscampaign.org.

