The Valuable 500 Initiative

The Issue

- Although college graduates we have been producing are a valuable asset in each countries, it had been difficult for them to gain access to a any job, or a job to demonstrate their full potential.

The Solution

- The Valuable 500: Network of 500 global large companies founded by Caroline Casey and Chaired by Paul Polman (Ex-CEO of Unilever)
- We are mainstreaming disability inclusion in business by demonstrating that it is essential for sustainable growth of companies to take into account of the 15% of the global population.

The Valuable 500 Initiative – What We Do

Networking

- Networking of CEOs, CHROs and people in charge of disability inclusion.

Brand Experience Audit

- We are developing a digital toolkit to audit the brand experience for persons with disabilities, to make sure the whole experience is inclusive.

Valuable Representation

- Power of media is incredible. We are developing a media bank of inclusive photos and videos, so that inclusive photos and videos are available on market.

And many more coming!
