

The Guttmacher Institute cordially invites you to:

“Advancing Family Planning Beyond Cairo: New Research to Inform Investments, Policies and Programs in the post-2015 Development Framework”

A side event organized during the 47th session of the UN Commission on Population and Development

As the Cairo Program of Action draws to a close and we determine how best to carry its agenda forward, it is critical that improving contraceptive use and reducing unmet need for contraception remain front and center of the global development strategy. But doing so will require not only increased investments from donors and national governments, but a re-examining of existing efforts in order to ensure that current and future policies and programs have as great an impact as possible. This panel will present new research on trends in family planning use and reasons for unmet need, to inform discussions on new approaches to policy and programs, keeping in mind the perspectives of both civil society organizations and leading international donors.

Date: April 7, 2014

Time: 1:15-2:45pm

Location: Church Center of the United Nations, 777 UN Plaza, 2nd Floor (Corner of E. 44th Street and 1st Avenue)

Participants:

- Sneha Barot, Senior Public Policy Associate, Guttmacher Institute
- Ann Biddlecom, Chief, Fertility and Family Planning Section, UN Population Division
- Gilda Sedgh, Senior Research Associate, Guttmacher Institute
- Moses Mulumba, Executive Director of Center for Health Human Rights & Development, Uganda
- Madeleine Short Fabric, Public Health Advisor, USAID

RSVP: Jessica Malter, Senior Communications Associate, Guttmacher Institute:
jmalter@guttmacher.org

The event is open to the public and refreshments will be served.

