

"THE CANOE
MUST BE PADDLED FROM BOTH SIDES."

South Pacific Island Proverb

“Everything on the earth has a purpose, every disease an herb to cure it, and every person a mission. This is the Indian theory of existence.”

Mourning Dove, Salish, North America

“... all things share the same breath — the beast, the tree, the man, the air —
shares its spirit with all the life it supports.”

Chief Seattle, Suquamish, North America

“We are not myths of the past, ruins in the jungle, or zoos. We are people and we want to be respected,
not to be victims of intolerance and racism.”

Rigoberta Menchu Tum, Mayan

"THE DEATH OF FEAR IS IN DOING WHAT YOU FEAR TO DO."

Sequichie Comingdeer quoted in A Cherokee Feast of Days
by Joyce Sequichie Hifler

“Respect was a big word for us when we were growing up. We were taught that the meaning of respect was to have your own self-respect and respect for others, to love others as well as yourself.”

Margaret Joseph-Amos, Clayoquot, 1992 - Aesousista Reserve, BC

"THOSE WHO LOSE THE DREAMING
ARE LOST."

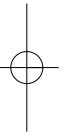

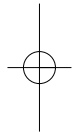

Australian Aboriginal Proverb

“We are all visitors to this time, this place. We are just passing through. Our purpose here is to observe, to learn, to grow, to love... and then we return home.”

Australian Aboriginal Proverb

“No God is all good or bad.
The same one may save or kill.
The breeze refreshes and the hurricane destroys... but both are air.”

Cuban Indigenous Proverb

“Treat the earth well: it was not given to you by your parents, it was loaned to you by your children. We do not inherit the Earth from our Ancestors, we borrow it from our Children.”

African Indigenous Proverb

“When rain falls on a leopard, it wets
him but does not wash out his markings.”

African Indigenous Proverb
