Action for Universal Access 2010: Myths and Realities

An interactive civil society hearing

Date Tuesday, 10 June 2008
Time 11:00 – 13:00
Location Conference Room 4, United Nations, New York, US

Concept

High level representatives of UN Member States and Observers will take part in an informal interactive hearing, during which the views of a diverse group of people from civil society will be highlighted. This is part of the official proceedings of the United Nations 2008 Comprehensive Review of the progress achieved in realizing the 2001 Declaration of Commitment on HIV/AIDS and the 2006 Political Declaration on HIV/AIDS. The civil society speakers will bring frontline experience to the session, addressing the challenging issues underlying the spread of the epidemic, while stressing the importance of accountability and involvement as we near the ten year target set to fulfil the Declaration of Commitment and Universal Access. The outcomes of the hearing will be documented and will contribute to the summary document of the President of the General Assembly.

Theme

The theme for the hearing is Action for Universal Access 2010: Myths and Realities

Twenty-seven years into the epidemic, millions of lives have been lost and hundreds of millions more have been changed forever. We are not keeping pace, let alone overcoming the impact of the AIDS epidemic. We are slipping behind on targets to reach Universal Access by 2010 and Millennium Development Goal Six. We are all falling short in the response to HIV – in matching action, commitment, leadership, and resources to our rhetoric.

The civil society hearing will address the current reality of an insufficient response to HIV and the impact it has on communities around the world. The hearing will also address some of the myths that themselves have become barriers to effectively responding to the epidemic. It will provide an open, honest and dynamic forum to discuss these myths and realities in the work to achieve Universal Access by 2010.

Aims

1. To actively engage with government representatives on key issues for the high level meeting.
2. To provide a space for the voices of those who face marginalization, stigma, and discrimination, in particular people living with HIV.
3. To push for accountability and urgent action to achieve Universal Access by 2010.
4. To demonstrate the strength, diversity and commitment of civil society in the response to the epidemic.
5. To provide official civil society input to the high level meeting and the President's Report.

Program

The hearing will be chaired by the President of the UN General Assembly, His Excellency Srgjan Kerim, or his representative.

Following the opening remarks by the President of the UN General Assembly, the hearing will be addressed by the Secretary General of the United Nations, His Excellency Ban Ki-moon.

Note: Speakers and alternates are listed here with their organizational affiliation. Many have been accredited for the high level meeting through umbrella organizations with which they or their own organization are associated.*

Speakers' Selection

Following an open call for nominations, which yielded more than 250 proposed speakers, the Civil Society Task Force recommended speakers and alternate speakers to the President of the General Assembly. The selection was based on criteria established by the Civil Society Task Force, which included experience, people living with HIV, gender and regional diversity. Around half of the civil society speakers are openly living with HIV.

At the hearing, civil society will provide copies of the full texts of the remarks of speakers and background fact sheets on each selected topic.
