Expert contributing authors to the Report, and

This report is the third edition in the DHF-MPTFO series on Financing the United Nations Development System. As in previous reports, the first part of this edition provides an overview of UNDS resources, analyzes the sources of UNDS income and presents a profile of UNDS expenditure.

The second part of the report includes a collection of some 25 essays from individual expert contributors covering a range of critical issues facing UNDS financing. In this part, clusters of papers are presented in five chapters and address topics relating to the key financing dimensions of UN Reform, financing the implementation of Agenda 2030, the sustaining peace finance agenda, the role of the UN in leveraging, and, the transparency and accountability for going to scale. We believe that these contributions will shed some light on the pathways which lie ahead for the repositioning of the UNDS.

The Report will be distributed in hard copy at the event, and available electronically in the week prior to the launch. We hope that you or one of your colleagues will be available to participate in this event.
