

TV

UNITED NATIONS NATIONS UNIES

UN IN ACTION

Release Date: March 2011

Programme No. 1284

Length: 3'35"

Languages: English, French, Spanish, Russian

HAITI: CARAVAN ZERO CHOLERA

VIDEO

HEALTH BRIGADE LOADING
THEIR CARGO INTO A TRUCK

TRUCK LEAVING

STREET SHOTS WITH HEALTH
BRIGADE

BRIGADE CROSSING,
MS. BRIGADE'S TENT EXTERIOR

FREDJINIE GAY ON CAMERA

SHOTS INSIDE THE TENT

AUDIO

NARRATION

In Haiti, health brigades from the Community of Viva Rio, a Brazilian non-profit group, begin installing sanitary hygiene kits on trucks in order to distribute them in camps throughout the capital.

(11)

"Caravan Zero Cholera" is a national effort to inform the population on hygiene measures to prevent cholera. (6.5)

Fredjinie Gay is the Chief Brigadier Community of Viva Rio. (3.5)

FREDJINIE GAY: (Creole) F

"We try to inform as many people as possible so that they do not get cholera. For example there are health guidelines that shows people how to wash their hands, how to prepare the oral solution. They should wash their hands as often as possible." (14.5)

NARRATION

The program is initiated by the Office of

WOMAN WORKER SHOWS THE HYGIENIC KIT

Emergency Health Program, in partnership with UNICEF, the UN Peacekeeping Mission in Haiti, or MINUSTAH and Viva Rio. (10)

WOMAN WITH BULLHORN IN THE STREET

Volunteers from Viva Rio stage workshops to get the information out. Nadege Fontilus is one of them. (6.5)

NADEGE FONTILUS ON CAMERA

NADEGE FONTILUS: (Creole) F

"I am satisfied with my work because it tries to help a population that just experienced the earthquake and is now facing cholera." (10)

HEALTH WORKERS DISTRIBUTE HYGIENIC KITS

NARRATION

Officers have so far distributed hygiene kits to 1,200 families living in tents. The residents of Delmas 2 are thankful. Lencie Louis is a Beneficiary. (11.5)

LANCIE LOUIS TALKS ON CAMERA

LANCIE LOUIS: (Creole) F

"I greatly appreciate the work being done. It is a good initiative, because despite that cholera has already claimed many victims; there are many people that can be helped. People do not take proper hygienic precautions. With awareness we will have less cases of cholera and people will be informed." (18)

WS. UN PEACEKEEPING TROOPS AT CITY STREETS

NARRATION

Brazilian Peacekeepers are providing security for the area and regulating the traffic during these activities. The military has been in charge of logistics and ensuring the safety of participants. (12)

UN SOLDIER STANDS GUARD

Jorge Roberto Lopez Fossi from MINUSTAH. (3)

JORGE ROBERTO FOSSI ON CAMERA

JORGE ROBERTO L. FOSSI (English) M
“We have to put in mind of the population about this situation. And Those NGO’s have worked in order to convince the population to combat this important disease and we are supporting this activity.” (13)

SCHOOL CHILDREN AT AN OUTDOOR RALLY

NARRATION
Theatre is one way that has proven effective in raising awareness. BPU is a local NGO in charge of emergency assistance and it is responsible for the coordination of cultural activities. (12)

MAN TALKING TO THE CROWD WITH MICROPHONE

Etienne Robinson is the deputy coordinator of the Caravan: (3.5)

ETIENNE ROBINSON ON CAMERA

ETIENNE ROBINSON (Creole) M
“We have the ambition to work hard to eradicate cholera through outreach in schools, churches and throughout the 40 municipalities across the country.” (12)

PARADE SHOTS

NARRATION
The latest data from Haiti’s health ministry reports almost 300,000 cases of cholera and more than 4,500 deaths. By providing preventive education and training, it is hoped that this deadly epidemic will be stopped. (15)

UN LOGO

This report was produced by Junior Philipp Notus for the United Nations. (5)