NARRATION:

Millions of people across the world mourned when Nelson Mandela, one of Africa's greatest leaders and a global hero to many, passed away on December 5th, 2013 at the age of 95. (12)

Mandela represented many different things to different people- a political freedom fighter on terrorism watch lists, a respected human rights lawyer and advocate in addressing the world's most challenging problems, and in his own words 'a humble servant.' (19)

NELSON MANDELA: (In English) M

"I place the remaining years of my life in your hands." (7)

But most of all Mandela will be remembered for the personal sacrifice he made to free the people of South Africa who had suffered under

ROBBEN ISLAND

the Apartheid regime. (8)

ARCHIVAL PRESIDENTIAL APPEARANCES

After serving 27 years in prison on Robben Island, he later became South Africa's first black president, making several appearances at the United Nations. (11)

GA HALL

NELSON MANDELA: (In English) M

ON CAMERA AT GA

"I will continue to entertain the hope that there has emerged the cadre of leaders in my own country and region, on the continent, and in the world which will not allow that any should be denied their freedom, as we were, that any should be turned into refugees, as we were, that any should be condemned to go hungry, as we were, that any should be stripped of their human dignity, as we were." (35)

CLINTON IN SECURITY COUNCIL	BILL CLINTON: (In English) M
ARCHIVAL BLACK AND WHITE FOOTAGE OF MANDELA MAKING HIS LAST WALK FROM PRISON	"You know Mandela you're a very great man...but tell me the truth, when you were walking down that road the last time, didn't you hate them again? He said 'Briefly, I did. I'm old enough to tell the truth.' He said 'I felt hatred and fear. But I said to myself, if you hate them after you get in that car, you will still be their prisoner. I wanted to be free, and so I let it go.'" (26)
CLINTON ON-CAMERA
STILLS OF MANDELA AND UNAIDS WORK	Mandela leaves behind many legacies – including his work to eradicate HIV and AIDS. When he publicly revealed in 2005 the personal tragedy that his son had died of AIDS-related causes, Mandela helped bring a taboo subject in South Africa to the forefront. (19)
HIV/AIDS PREVENTION EFFORTS ON THE GROUND
CLASSROOMS/CLINICS	NARRATION: Still, some 2.5 million people are infected with HIV each year. UNAIDS, the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS, is fighting to ensure equitable access to high-quality, cost-effective antiretroviral therapy and HIV prevention programmes. Executive Director of UNAIDS, Michel Sidibe: (18)

AND SECURITY COUNCIL

SG BAN KI-MOON: (In English) M

"I can understand when some say we will never see his like again. But I see it differently. Because whenever people stand up for human rights; wherever people speak out for freedom and reach out for reconciliation – that is Nelson Mandela." (22)
