

José Miguel Guzman, Ph.D.
Keynote Speaker
29 April 2024

José Miguel Guzman, Ph.D., is a recognized world leader in the field of population dynamics and international development, with numerous publications and extensive experience in data production and analysis, research, and policy development in the areas of demographic dynamics, ageing, population, and climate change, sexual and reproductive health, including family planning and adolescent health.

He has worked at the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), and the Demographic and Health Surveys Program (DHS). In recent years, he has provided technical support to several Caribbean countries in the development of new frameworks for their national population policies to address low fertility and population decline. He authored the chapter on Population Policies in Latin America and the Caribbean in the 'International Handbook of Population Policies', published by John May and Jack Goldstone in 2022.

He was named Laureate of the International Union for the Scientific Study of Population (IUSSP) in 2017 and was awarded a Diplôme d'Honneur en Démographie in 2010 by the University of Montreal, where he obtained his Doctorate in Demography. Between 2010-2016, he was a member of the Global Agenda Council on Population Growth of the World Economic Forum.

Currently, he is President and Founder of NoBrainerData, an international data consulting firm, and former Invited Professor and Researcher at El Colegio de México.
