

The DCF Survey helps governments to focus their observations of how effectively their development cooperation functions and why around key enablers:

National development cooperation policies	Country results frameworks	National development cooperation forums	Development cooperation information systems
Vision Priorities Targets	Monitoring targets Long-term impact	Multi-stakeholder dialogue Review progress against targets	Accurate, comprehensive and timely data

2018 Participation is divided between 4 regions:

43%
Africa

29%
Asia & Pacific

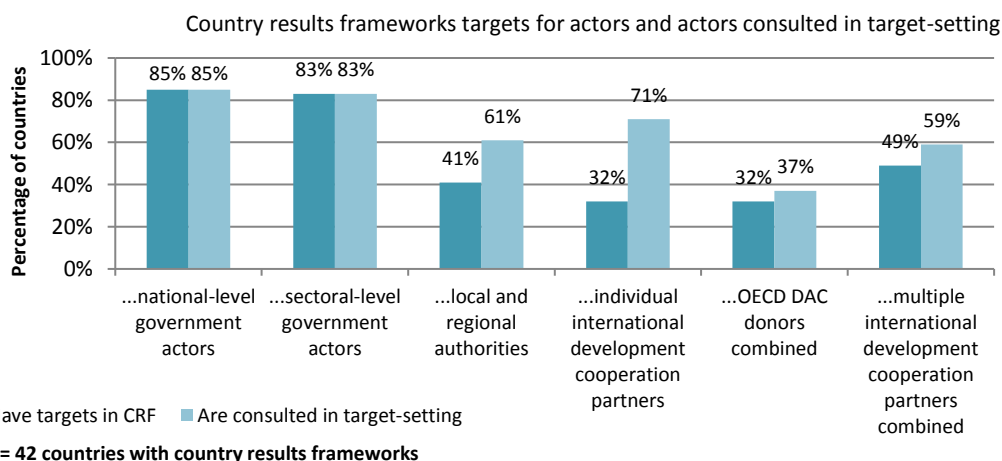

19%
Latin America & Caribbean

9%
Eastern Europe

Inputs feed directly without attribution into UN-led processes:

The exercise encourages inclusive participation, beyond governments, of domestic actors and beneficiaries plus external partners.

Join us for the DCF Survey side event marking the launch of the 2018 DCF Survey Report.

Discussions will highlight key findings of the report on:

- Moving from aid to broader development cooperation policies
- Better engaging the range of development cooperation partners
- Setting targets for development cooperation partners and non-state actors
- Strengthening periodic, multi-stakeholder review of development cooperation processes
- Prioritizing capacity support needs
