Women and Youth Entrepreneurship in Africa
The impact of entrepreneurial education on development

United Nations Headquarters, New York
13 June 2016, 10:00 am – 1 pm
Trusteeship Council Chamber (GA Building, 2nd floor)

The experience of African women and youth can be critical in shaping an economic development model based on entrepreneurship with a human dimension. There is a clear need for enterprises with a stronger social and environmental focus and for Universities to offer specially designed executive programs to train a new generation of business leaders.
