

Sexual and reproductive health and human rights priorities beyond 2014: equality, quality of care and accountability

Date: Wednesday 9 April 2014

Time: 13:15 to 14:30

Venue: UN Conference Room D, CB-1B-CRD

Join WHO, OHCHR, UNDP and UNFPA for a discussion on emerging priorities in relation to sexual and reproductive health and human rights. Speakers will discuss key principles, approaches and tools for promotion and protection of quality of services, addressing inequalities and enhancing accountability. They also will share recommendations for policy-makers, managers, providers and other stakeholders in the health sector on some of the priority actions needed to ensure that different human rights dimensions are systematically and clearly integrated into the provision of sexual and reproductive health to address these priorities.

Panellists:

Moderator: Kate Gilmore (Deputy Executive Director, UNFPA) TBC

Welcome Remarks: Ivan Šimonović (Assistant Secretary General, OHCHR, New York) TBC

Speakers:

- ❖ Marleen Temmerman (Director, Department of Reproductive Health and Research, World Health Organization)
- ❖ Rachel Arinii (Coordinator of the Youth Coalition)
- ❖ Noor Nakibuuka (Center for Health, Human Rights and Development, Uganda)
- ❖ Alessandra Nilo (Gestos, Brazil)