

52nd session

Commission on Population and Development

Review and appraisal of the Programme of Action of the International Conference on Population and Development and its contribution to the follow-up and review of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development

01 – 05 April 2019

United Nations, New York

www.unpopulation.org

#UNPopulation

#CPD52

Panel discussion

On the Road to 2030: The continuing relevance of the International Conference on Population and Development

Wednesday, 3 April 2019 (3.00–4.30 p.m.)

United Nations Headquarters, Conference room 1, Conference Building

The Programme of Action of the International Conference on Population and Development (ICPD), held in Cairo in 1994, promoted a people-centred approach to development grounded in the respect for human rights, empowerment of women and environmental sustainability. Elements of both the Millennium Development Goals and the Sustainable Development Goals were derived from its forward-looking goals and objectives. The panel will discuss the potential further contributions of the Programme of Action to the successful implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, by reviewing lessons learned and best practices as well as priorities for action on the road to 2030.

Moderator
Fred Pearce

Prof. Alex Ezeh

Professor at Drexel University and founding director of the African Population and Health Research Center

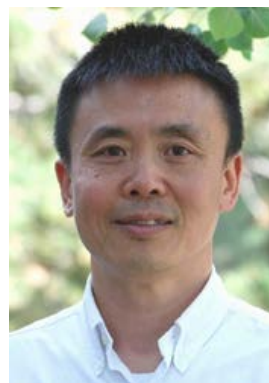

Ms. María Antonieta Alcalde

Director of advocacy of the International Planned Parenthood Federation/Western Hemisphere Region

Prof. Leiwen Jiang

Professor at Shanghai University and Senior Associate of the Population Council

Mr. Rudelmar Bueno de Faria

General Secretary of the ACT Alliance

