

SERBIA - DESERTIFICATION

- Improved use of and local access to climate and weather information, forecasts, early warning and information networking to combat desertification

Republic Hydrometeorological Service provides within its competence systematic monitoring and forecasting of weather, climate and water condition, and numerous meteorological and hydrological data and information are available to users both via Internet and other communication media. It is expected that dissemination system of relevant information and information networking to combat desertification within the national implementation programme of this Convention will be upgraded after the ratification process of UN Convention to combat desertification and mitigation of adverse drought effects (UNCCD).
