Reflections on the General Findings and Options Contained in the Independent Assessment of the IAF

Presentation by Mr. Jurgen Blaser

- Strengthening the future IAF
- The importance of compromise and consensus
- Developing a strategy to engage actors outside the forest sector
- IAF must be a key champion of the forest-related SDGs
- Elements remain relevant whether or not decide to pursue LBA
- A multi-pronged approach
- Feasibility and costs should be clarified

Reflections on the General Findings and Options Contained in the Independent Assessment of the IAF

- A catalyst for policy implementation
  - Effective financial mechanism is needed
  - Strategic in the long-term, tactical in the short-term
  - Reduce fragmentation & streamlined approach
  - UNFF: precious position
  - UNFF → UN Forest Assembly
  - Policy should be informed by scientific and technological innovations
  - UNFF should be flexible through the establishment of working groups

Strengthening Regional/Sub-regional Involvement in the IAF

Presentations on ACTO, Congo Basin Forest Partnership,
Negotiations on a legally binding agreement on forests in Europe

- Improve regional forest-related cooperation mechanisms
- Providing effective platforms for coordination
- Providing platforms to discuss regional and global LBA options

- Involvement of stakeholders
- SIDS or LFCCs
- Financial and technical support to build capacity
- Stable funding

Strengthening Regional/Sub-regional Involvement in the IAF

- Experiences of other intergovernmental fora & regional platforms in other sectors
- The future IAF adds value to regional organizations/mechanisms/processes
- Enhance exchange of good practices
- Regional/sub-regional bodies are long-standing, with own mandates and priorities

- “Plan” can be adjusted when future direction of IAF is known
- 2030 planning horizon
- Four-year work program cycle
- SDGs: important reference framework for “plan”
- Targets for GOFs & SDGs should be measurable and manageable
- Virtual group on SDG-related targets and issues
- One-page strategy statement to accompany the “plan”
- Plan has significant communications potential

Key Messages and Follow up Points

- Better understanding of:
  - Budgetary implications of the IAF options
  - The feasibility of moving forward on components associated with each option
