INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The present chapter concerns the interpretation and application of rules 6 to 12 of the provisional rules of procedure of the Security Council, relating to the agenda. The chapter is divided into three parts. Unlike in previous volumes of the Repertoire, a part concerning the adoption or amendment of rules 6-12 has been omitted in the present Supplement since, during the period under review, the Council did not consider any change in rules 6-12.

Part I, The provisional agenda (rules 6-8 and rule 12), provides information on the circulation of communications by the Secretary-General, and the preparation and communication of the provisional agenda.

Part II, Adoption of the agenda (rule 9), contains material dealing with questions that were discussed in connection with the adoption of the agenda, such as the scope of items on the agenda in relation to the scope of the discussion, phrasing of agenda items and postponement of consideration of items. Unlike in previous volumes of the Repertoire, no material was found for treatment concerning the procedure of the Council in voting on the adoption of the agenda, or discussion in the Council of the requirements for the inclusion of an item in the agenda and the effect of such inclusion, or other questions of procedure.

Part III, The agenda: Matters of which the Security Council is seized (rules 10 and 11), relates to the list of matters under the Council's consideration. The tabulation in Section B supplements the tabulations in previous volumes of the Repertoire and indicates the changes that have since occurred in the list of matters of which the Security Council is seized. Section B also contains a case study concerning the deletion of an agenda item by a decision taken at the close of a Council meeting.

PART I
THE PROVISIONAL AGENDA (RULES 6-8 AND 12)

NOTE

The provisional agenda, prepared by the Secretary-General and approved by the President of the Security Council in accordance with rule 7, includes those items that have been brought to the attention of the Council under rule 6. Under that rule, “the Secretary-General shall immediately bring to the attention of all representatives on the Security Council all communications from States, organs of the United Nations, or the Secretary-General concerning any matter for the consideration of the Security Council in accordance with the provisions of the Charter”. Effect is normally given to this rule by the distribution of communications as documents in the S/series. Communications from regional arrangements or agencies received pursuant to Article 54 of the Charter are also circulated in the S/series of documents.

Rule 7 entrusts the drawing up of the provisional agenda for each meeting to the Secretary-General, subject to the approval of the President of the Security Council. The Secretary-General’s discretion with respect to the inclusion of new items is restricted to those items that have been brought to the attention of the Council under rule 6. In addition to the express provisions of rule 7, the Secretary-General also has to take into account whether a specific request to include the item has been made.

Rule 8 concerns communication of the provisional agenda to the representatives on the Security Council, and rule 12, paragraph 1, concerns such communication for periodic meetings. Since, during the period under review, no periodic meetings were convened, no material relating to the latter rule was found.

A. RULE 6: CIRCULATION OF COMMUNICATIONS BY THE SECRETARY-GENERAL*

In accordance with rule 6, the Secretary-General continued the practice of distributing communications as documents in the S/series. During the period under review, there were no instances in which the question of circulation of communications arose.

B. RULE 7: PREPARATION OF THE PROVISIONAL AGENDA

In accordance with rule 7, the Secretary-General continued the practice of drawing up the provisional agenda for each meeting, subject to the approval of the President of the Security Council. During the period under review, there was no instance in which the subject of the preparation of the provisional agenda gave rise to a discussion in the Council.

C. RULE 8: COMMUNICATION OF THE PROVISIONAL AGENDA

In accordance with rule 8, the Secretary-General continued to communicate the provisional agenda to the representatives on the Security Council. Pursuant to prior decisions¹ of the Council, the provisional agendas for meetings of the Council were also listed in the Journal of the United Nations, as were the topics to be discussed in informal consultations of the members of the Council.

PART II

ADOPTION OF THE AGENDA (RULE 9)

NOTE

Under rule 9, the first item on the provisional agenda for each meeting of the Security Council is the adoption of the agenda.² In practice, the Council usually discusses and approves the provisional agenda in prior informal consultations and then adopts it at the formal meeting without a vote. During the period under review, there was no occasion on which an objection was raised on grounds related to the procedure of the Council in voting on the adoption of the agenda or the substance of the item(s) inscribed on the provisional agenda. Objections on the adoption of the agenda were also precluded by the practice of the Council of inscribing a single substantive item on its provisional agenda for each meeting.

¹ S/26015, Note by the President dated 30 June 1993; and S/PRST/1994/62, Statement issued by the President on 4 November 1994.

² There were several instances in which, in accordance with past practice, the President of the Council made preliminary remarks before the adoption of the agenda. These included expressions of thanks, congratulations, tributes and expressions of sympathy. The lattermost category also included the observation of a minute of silence. For example, at the 4247th meeting on 14 December 2000, the President spoke briefly, welcoming the decision by Ukraine to close the Chernobyl nuclear power station on 15 December.

In the section below, which covers other questions that were discussed in connection with the adoption of the agenda, two case histories and related material have been included under the sub-headings: “Scope of items on the agenda in relation to the scope of the discussion” (case 1); “Phrasing of agenda items”; and “Postponement of consideration of items” (case 2). No material was found for treatment under the other sub-headings included in previous volumes of the Repertoire, dealing with the order of discussion of items on the agenda and precedence of the decision on adoption of the agenda.

During the period under review, the Council included 68 new items in its agenda.³ Notably, of the new items, several dealt with thematic issues. Additional items were of a recurring nature, such as those relating to wrap-up discussions on the monthly work of the Security Council, meetings with troop-contributing countries pursuant to resolution 1353 (2001), annex II, sections A and B, and Security Council missions.

With a view to improving clarity and transparency, and to facilitate understanding by the press regarding the work of the Security Council, the Council agreed, via Note⁴ by the President dated 26 March 2002, that the President of the Council would in public meetings introduce agenda items by specifying the agenda item/issue for consideration, unless otherwise agreed in prior consultations.

A. OTHER DISCUSSION ON THE ADOPTION OF THE AGENDA

1. Scope of items on the agenda in relation to the scope of the discussion

CASE 1

While discussions in the Security Council are usually limited to the item on the agenda, on a few occasions representatives asserted that a previous speaker had addressed situations or issues that were not on the Council’s agenda or that did not strictly fall under the scope of the item under consideration.⁵ In one instance, at the 4762nd meeting of the Council, held on 22 May

³ For a complete list of the new items, see the table in Section B, Part III.

⁵ For instance, at the 4219th meeting on “Briefing by Mrs. Sadako Ogata, United Nations High Commissioner for

2003, concerning the agenda item “Response to the humanitarian situation in Iraq”, the representative of Syria took the floor in explanation of the vote that had taken place at the 4761st meeting in connection with the item “The situation between Iraq and Kuwait”. Before giving the floor, the President noted that “following informal consultations with Council members and with their concurrence, [he was] call[ing] on the representative of the Syrian Arab Republic to make a statement regarding the Council’s proceedings [that] morning”.⁶ While the full statement of the representative of Syria was recorded in the verbatim record of the 4762nd meeting, a footnote was inserted in the verbatim record of the 4761st meeting, cross-referencing his statement.⁷

2. Phrasing of agenda items

In two instances, the wording of existing items was amended⁸: (i) in accordance with a note⁹ by the President dated 27 August 2002, the wording of items concerning “Meeting of the Security Council with troop-contributing countries ... pursuant to resolution 1353 (2001), annex

Refugees”, held on 10 November 2000, the representative of Canada expressed the view that the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) had “spoken eloquently and thoughtfully of the challenges facing refugees and humanitarian organizations in countries which are on the Security Council’s agenda – and of those countries which were not but perhaps should have been”. See S/PV.4219: Canada, p. 16. At the 4245th meeting on the situation in Bosnia and Herzegovina, held on 12 December 2000, the representative of the United Kingdom expressed his appreciation that the representative of the United States had “used the occasion to address us not just on the subject on the agenda, but also on the subject that will be uppermost in our minds between now and 22 December [the scales of assessment for the United Nations regular and peacekeeping budgets]”. See S/PV.4245: United Kingdom, p. 13. At the 4568th meeting on the situation in Bosnia and Herzegovina, held on 10 July 2002, the representative of Yugoslavia noted, “we are discussing extremely important issues [the International Criminal Court and United Nations peacekeeping] that transcend the item on the Council’s agenda. See S/PV.4568/Res. I: Yugoslavia, p. 13. This issue was subsequently discussed under a new item entitled “United Nations peacekeeping”. At the 4616th meeting on the draft report of the Security Council to the General Assembly, held on 26 September 2002, the representative of Colombia stated, “as indicated in its agenda, this meeting was convened to consider the draft report of the Security Council to the General Assembly. [It] should not be made into some kind of wrap-up on the Council’s agenda and performance”. See S/PV.4616: Colombia, p. 22.

⁷ See S/PV.4761, p.2 (footnote).

⁸ In other instances, references were made to the wording or merging of items. At the 4109th meeting on “Maintaining peace and security: Humanitarian aspects of issues before the Security Council”, held on 9 March 2000, the representative of Egypt stated that “the title of the agenda item provide[d] a very loose framework for discussion, making it very difficult for many Member States to address the issue accurately or speak about it in specific or definitive terms”. He added that “the term ‘humanitarian aspects’ [could] be used to raise various subjects and ideas and involve[d] too many concepts and measures”. See S/PV.4109: Egypt, p. 20. At the 4684th meeting on the protection of children and armed conflict, held on 14 January 2003, the representative of Japan suggested that, due to their inter-relatedness, the items on protection of children and armed conflict, protection of civilians in armed conflicts, and women and peace and security could well be addressed under a single agenda item. See S/PV.4684/Res. I: Japan, p. 40.

⁹ S/2002/964.

II, section A” was revised to read “Meeting of the Security Council with troop-contributing countries ... pursuant to resolution 1353 (2001), annex II, sections A and B”; (ii) as from the 4646th meeting on 14 November 2002, the wording of the item “The situation in East Timor” was revised to read “The situation in Timor-Leste”.¹⁰

3. Postponement of consideration of items

CASE 2

In one instance, immediately following the adoption of the agenda, the consideration of the item was postponed until a specific time and date. At the 4820th meeting on 9 September 2003, the Security Council met to consider the item relating to the destruction of Pan Am flight 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland, in 1988 and UTA flight 772 over Niger in 1989. A sub-item related to voting on draft resolution S/2003/824, which would lift the sanctions imposed on the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya. Following the adoption of the agenda, the President of the Council stated that, as regards the destruction of Pan Am flight 103, Libya had accepted responsibility, agreed to pay a substantial sum of compensation and to cooperate with any further investigation, and had renounced terrorism. In considering the agenda before it, the Security Council was also conscious of two factors: first, the need to act unanimously; and second, that there were other very legitimate concerns pertaining to Libya that still needed resolution. In recognition of these factors, his colleagues on the Council, in a prior informal meeting, had concluded that the most appropriate course would be for the President, invoking rule 33 of the Council’s provisional rules of procedure, to propose the adjournment of the present meeting until 10:30am on 12 September, in the expectation that the agenda that had just been adopted would be the agenda before the Council on 12 September.¹¹

The President then put the procedural motion to the vote. It was carried by unanimity and the meeting was adjourned.

At the 4820th meeting (Part II) on 12 September 2003, the Council, in accordance with the arrangement approved at the previous meeting, did not subject the item to renewed debate in connection with the adoption of the agenda. The Council continued its consideration of the item and sub-item adopted at the 4820th meeting and voted on draft resolution S/2003/824, which was adopted as resolution 1506 (2003).¹²

PART III

THE AGENDA: MATTERS OF WHICH THE SECURITY COUNCIL IS SEIZED (RULES 10 AND 11)

NOTE

Rule 10 of the provisional rules of procedure was designed to enable the Security Council to continue, at its next meeting, the consideration of an item of unfinished business without subjecting that item to renewed debate in connection with the adoption of the agenda. No discussion concerning the application of that rule occurred during the period under review.

Rule 11 provides for the Secretary-General to communicate each week to the representatives on the Security Council a summary statement of matters of which the Security Council is seized and of the stage reached in their consideration. In previous volumes of the Repertoire, it was noted that items on the agenda of the Council had remained on the Secretary-General's summary statement when the tenor of the Council's discussion or its specific decisions revealed a continuing concern with the matter. Additional evidence supporting such retention was provided when the President of the Council announced, upon conclusion of the debate, that the Council remained seized of a question.

During the period under review, items were deleted from the list of matters of which the Security Council was seized when: (i) the item had not been considered in the preceding five years and no request for its retention had been made; or (ii) the Council had formally concluded its consideration of the item.

The re-formatted and streamlined tabulation appearing in the last section supplements the tabulations contained in the previous volumes of the Repertoire and indicates the changes that have since occurred in the list of matters of which the Council is seized.

¹² S/PV.4820 (Part II).

A. RULE 10

No discussion concerning the application of rule 10 occurred during the period under review. On many occasions, separate consecutive meetings were held on the same agenda item.¹³ In other instances, the meeting was suspended and resumed until the Council had completed that stage of its consideration of the item.¹⁴ In one instance, following the adoption of a procedural motion to adjourn the meeting until a specific time and date, the Council continued the second part of that meeting at the agreed time and date, three days later.¹⁵

B. RULE 11

1. Proceedings of the Security Council regarding the retention and deletion of items from the agenda

In what has become usual practice, items which have not been considered in the preceding five years are automatically deleted from the list of matters of which the Security Council is seized, unless a Member State notifies the Secretary-General beforehand of its wish to have the item retained.¹⁶ Thirty-five items were deleted during the period under review using this procedure. Items are also deleted following a request addressed to the Secretary-General by the Member State concerned and in the absence of any objection on the part of the members of the Council. No such request was made. In addition, items may be deleted by a decision of the Council taken at the close of a Council meeting. One item was deleted using this procedure, details of which are provided below.

¹³ For example: 4233rd and 4234th meetings, held in private on 27 November 2000, on the situation in the Middle East, including the Palestinian Question; 4418th and 4419th meetings, held on 15 November 2001, on the situation in Angola; 4658th and 4659th meetings, held in private on 9 December 2002, on the situation in the Central Africa Republic; and 4707th, 4708th and 4709th meetings on the situation between Iraq and Kuwait, the 4708th meeting having been held in private, on 14, 18 and 19 February 2003, respectively.

¹⁴ For example: 4208th meeting on women, peace and security, held on 24 October 2000 and resumed on 24 and 25 October; 4934th meeting on general issues relating to sanctions, held on 22 October 2001 and resumed on 25 October; 4522nd meeting on the situation in East Timor, held on 26 April 2002 and resumed on 29 April; and 4726th meeting on the situation between Iraq and Kuwait, held 26 March 2003.

¹⁵ See 4820th meeting (Part I) on the letters dated 20 and 23 December 1999, from France, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America, held on 9 September 2003 and adjourned until 12 September (Part II). See also Case 2 above.

¹⁶ The procedure was set out in two Notes (S/1996/603 and S/1996/704) by the President of the Council, dated 30 July and 29 August 1996, respectively.

CASE 3

At the 4820th meeting (Part II) on 12 September 2003, the Security Council adopted resolution 1506 (2003), by which, acting under Chapter VII of the Charter, it decided to lift the sanctions against the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya; decided further to dissolve the Committee established pursuant to resolution 748 (1992); and decided also that “it ha[d] concluded its consideration of the item entitled ‘Letters dated 20 and 23 December 1991 from France, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America’ and [t]hereby remove[d] th[at] item from the list of matters of which the Council [was] seized”.

2. Addition, retention and deletion of items from the Secretary-General’s summary statements on matters of which the Security Council is seized

The tabulation that follows has been re-formatted and streamlined. Part (a) indicates items added to the list of matters of which the Council was seized during the period under review; Part (b) indicates items appearing on previous lists for which new action by the Security Council was reported in the summary statements during the period 2000-2003; and Part (c) indicates items deleted from the list during that period.¹⁷ The tabulation shows that, during the period under review, the Council included 68 new items in the list of matters of which it was seized and deleted 36 items.
