1. IMPLEMENTING THE HUMAN SECURITY CONCEPT

According to the human security principles

PROTECTION OBJECTIVE “TOP-DOWN”

Support the formulation of public policies (gender, youth, IDP, food security and health)

Contribute to the improvement of human security conditions of the most vulnerable groups in Soacha and to the improvement of local response mechanisms

EMPOWERMENT OBJECTIVE “BOTTOM-UP”

Community empowerment and acces to basic social services

PEOPLE CENTERED

- Participatory formulation and implementation process.
- UN Interagency Group carried out monthly context analysis focusing on individuals.
- Identification of people-centered strategies in order to address ongoing human security threats that affect their livelihood and dignity.
- Promotion of new community leaders.

MULTI-SECTORAL

COMPREHENSIVE

- The Program addresses the wide spectrum of threats affecting Soacha's inhabitants.
- In the field, some strategies promoted the integration of different human security dimensions.

PERSONAL SECURITY

COMMUNITY SECURITY

CONTEXT SPECIFIC

Activities and methodologies have been adapted to the local context, according to the monthly context analysis carried out by UN Agencies.

This allowed the development of strategies taking into account local realities and dynamics.

PREVENTION-ORIENTED

One of the main focus of the Program is the formulation of public policies that ensure a medium and long term institutionalization of actions planned to protect and empower the community.

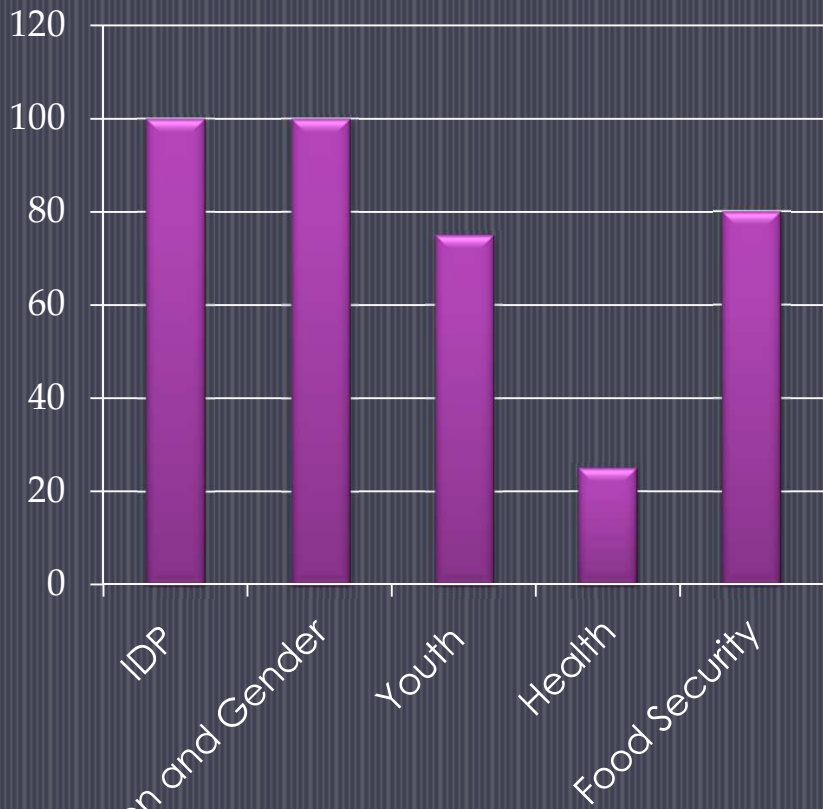

Through the work done at the roundtables and committees, capacities have been strengthened to face the most immediate problems of vulnerable groups.
