

Brush up on your knowledge about dental cleaning

Dental cleanings are important for maintaining healthy teeth and gums. But there are different types of cleanings and their corresponding billing code, which may require a different patient payment. The information in the attached document will help you understand the differences between types of cleanings and the role each can play in the prevention and/or treatment of dental disease. Your dentist will recommend the right cleaning for you.

Attachments:

Dental Cleaning FAQ Flyer v4.pdf