UNAT Held or UNDT Pronouncements

Prima facie case: When the Respondent fails to respond to a submission of the Applicant and to the relevant evidence adduced by the parties, the Tribunal is left with the inference that the submission is correct. Urgency: The matter was imminent as the Applicant's contract ended one day after the issuance of the Judgment. The urgency was due to the Respondent's failure to properly ensure that a management evaluation would be ready before the scheduled day of separation. Irreparable harm: The harm that the Applicant contended, namely the loss of career prospects after having served with the United Nations for an extended period of time, was of a nature that is generally non-pecuniary. Loss of employment is to be seen not merely in terms of financial loss, for which compensation may be awarded, but also in terms of loss of career opportunities. This is particularly the case in employment within the United Nations which is highly valued. Once out of the system the prospect of returning to a comparable post within the United Nations is significantly reduced. The damage to career opportunities and the consequential effect on one's life chances cannot adequately be compensated by money.
