UNAT Held or UNDT Pronouncements

The Secretary-General appealed. UNAT dismissed the Secretary-General's appeal against the UNDT's interpretation of judgment. It found that the appeal was not receivable because the interpretation of a judgment is not a fresh decision or judgment within the meaning of Article 2. 1 of the UNAT Statute.

Decision Contested or Judgment/Order Appealed

Upon applications by both parties, the UNDT issued its interpretation of judgment, confirming its interim orders to the Secretary-General to suspend the decision not to renew the staff member's appointment pending the final determination of the substantive case, and to pay half of the staff member's salary from the date of the order until the final determination of the case.

Legal Principle(s)

An interpretation of a UNDT judgment is not a judgment within the meaning of Article 2. 1 of the UNAT Statute. Therefore, an appeal against it is not receivable.
