Excellency,

I have the honour to refer to the informal plenary meeting of the General Assembly held on 12 April 2023 to hear briefings from eminent scientists, academics and representatives of the private sector focused on science-based evidence in support of sustainable solutions on the topics of Beyond GDP, Food Security, and Sustainable Transformation and Scientific Support System at the UN.

In this regard, I have the further honour to circulate a summary of the scientific briefing, along with an information package containing the presentations and key notions shared by the panellists.
