Stakeholder Engagement

Opportunities

General Public

Priority Communication Channels: Instagram, Regular Process Website

- Create robust "Take Action" Page on the Regular Process website with resources & tools for the public to get involved
- -Create social content strategy that drivers users from instagram to relevant sections of the Take Action page on RP website
- Conceptualize a crowdsource/community engagement campaign surrounding key findings that can be showcased at conferences/events (World Oceans Day) etc.
- Experts/UN representatives to participate in a series of pre-approved open-to-the-public events with synergistic organizations

Scientists

Priority Communication Channel: LinkedIn, Twitter

- Provide clear affiliation guidelines as an incentive for Scientists, including how Scientists can refer to their contribution, if they are eligible for grant funding for their time spent on the RP by private/academic institutions, etc
- -Create social content strategy that drivers users from instagram to relevant sections of the Take Action page on RP website
- Establish partnerships with key scientific institutions & publications to share RP participation opportunities
- Establish partnerships and relationships with key scientific conferences where new research is presented and discussed to provide engagement incentives for joining the Regular Process
- Identify and build relationships with key science/environmental news journalists at both key scientific outlets as well as international publications
- Explore opportunities to cross-publish WOA chapters on research databases and via platforms like Springer Nature

Academia

Priority Communication Channels LinkedIn, Twitter

- Build an ongoing global network of educational partner institutions
- -Distribute RP participation opportunities & CTAs to target institutions for relevant participation from researchers, professors, etc.
- Create a curriculum based off of the WOA findings to integration into relevant environmental program
- Facilitate opportunities for RP participants to be guest lecturers for scientific programs
- Create discussion guides & resources off of the WOA that can be distributed to student clubs focused on the ocean/environment
- Host invitation-only virtual and/or in-person Academic think tanks to share and discuss key findings from WOA with the objective of getting the RP in front of tareet participants

Governments/ States

Priority Communication Channels: Email

- Restrategize newsletter outreach to create streamlined updates and ask for governments ie: deadlines & instructions for submitting focal points, asks for hosting workshops etc.
- Rebuild capacity for submitting a focal point to increase ease + effectiveness
