Greetings DOALOS,

The United States appreciates the opportunity to provide comments on the latest draft of the second World Ocean Assessment. In that regard, the U.S. delegation respectfully submits for consideration the following comment on the latest draft.

- To assist readers of the WOA navigate the breadth of its content, including senior level scientists, managers and government officials, it would be useful if the summary “Keynote Points” contained individually in all thirty-two chapters are separated out and compiled into one separate summary document that may be easily and rapidly read and referred to.

Best regards,
Adam
