B. Security Council resolutions 1160 \(1998\), 1199 \(1998\), 1203 \(1998\), 1239 \(1999\) and 1244 \(1999\)

During the period under review, the Council held three meetings in connection with the item entitled “Security Council resolutions 1160 \(1998\), 1199 \(1998\), 1203 \(1998\), 1239 \(1999\) and 1244 \(1999\)”. All meetings took the form of briefings,³⁷⁹ and no decisions were adopted by the Council under the item in 2019. More information on the meetings, including on participants and speakers, is given in the table below.

In a note by the President of the Council dated 7 February 2019,³⁸⁰ the Council expressed its intent to hold briefings on the United Nations Interim Administration Mission in Kosovo (UNMIK) three times in 2019 and, as from 2020, to hold briefings twice a year, in April and October. Consistent with the note, in 2019, the Council heard three briefings by the Special Representative of the Secretary-General and Head of UNMIK, in February, June and October,³⁸¹ in connection with the reports of the Secretary-General pursuant to resolution 1244 \(1999\). In 2019, the Council also heard a briefing by the Under-Secretary-General for Legal Affairs and United Nations Legal Counsel.³⁸²

The briefings of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General were focused on the continued tensions and impediments to the resumption of the European Union-facilitated dialogue between Belgrade and Pristina,³⁸³ the changes in Kosovo’s political landscape following the conduct of elections in Serb-majority municipalities and early general elections³⁸⁴ and the security incident of 28 May 2019, which resulted in the arrest of UNMIK personnel.³⁸⁵ In his briefing, on 10 June 2019,³⁸⁶ the United Nations Legal Counsel focused on the legal regime of immunity for United Nations staff members in Kosovo as an element of the response to the events of 28 May and the follow-up to those events. He explained that the Department of Safety and Security had undertaken an internal investigation to gather all available information regarding the circumstances surrounding the arrest and detention of two UNMIK staff members in order to look into the allegations made by the Kosovo authorities regarding their conduct.

In 2019, Council members addressed the agreement reached on reducing the cycle of meetings and reporting on the item.³⁸⁷ While some Council members expressed support for the agreement,³⁸⁸ the representative of the Russian Federation expressed a different view, affirming that the situation in Kosovo was unstable and that it must remain firmly under the Council's control and be considered on the basis of the established practice of holding open briefings.³⁸⁹

Some Council members welcomed the successful holding of legislative elections in Kosovo on 6 October 2019 and expressed the hope that it would be an opportunity to encourage dialogue and reform.³⁹⁰ Council members expressed concern at the rising tensions between Belgrade and Pristina, called on both Serbia and Kosovo to tone down the confrontational rhetoric and discussed options to facilitate the resumption of dialogue between the parties.³⁹¹ The representative of China stated that the parties concerned should reach a mutually acceptable solution on the issue of Kosovo through dialogue within the framework of relevant Council resolutions.³⁹² Other Council members urged the resumption of the dialogue facilitated by the European Union³⁹³ and, in that context, called for the lifting of tariffs imposed by the Government of Kosovo on goods imported from Serbia and Bosnia and Herzegovina and the cessation of the call by the Government of Serbia for other countries to withdraw their recognition of Kosovo.³⁹⁴ The representative of the Russian Federation reminded the Council that it had been, and continued to be, the main platform for international dialogue on Kosovo, in accordance with resolution 1244 (1999).³⁹⁵ He also said that the dialogue between Belgrade and Pristina under the auspices of the European Union seemed to be “comatose”, with nothing having been done in that format for a very long time.³⁹⁶

On the question of Kosovo's independence, the representative of the Russian Federation highlighted the attempts by Kosovo authorities, with the support of a number of States, to join various international organizations and averred that Pristina could participate in multilateral structures only through UNMIK and that anything else would be a serious contravention of the provisions of resolution 1244 (1999).³⁹⁷ Other Council members held a different view, recognizing the independence of Kosovo.³⁹⁸

In relation to the work of UNMIK, Council members considered the possibility of conducting a strategic review of the Mission's mandate. Some members held the view that it was necessary to conduct a review of the Mission given the drastic change of conditions in Kosovo since the beginning of its mandate and the need to assess the Mission's withdrawal.³⁹⁹ The representative of the Russian Federation did not support the proposed review, contending that the problems in Kosovo were not yet resolved, and called on the Secretariat to carefully monitor the situation.⁴⁰⁰

Regarding the incident of 28 May, Council members expressed concern about the detention of UNMIK personnel in the course of a police operation conducted by authorities in northern Kosovo.⁴⁰¹ In that connection, the representative of the Russian Federation demanded that those responsible be prosecuted and punished.⁴⁰² They welcomed the report on the Mission's internal investigation into the matter and reaffirmed that the privileges, immunities, safety and security of United Nations personnel should be fully respected.⁴⁰³
